

9/24/19: A Moment of Silence for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women

Category: News

written by Meredith Raimondi | September 18, 2019

September 24, 2019 at 8:45 AM
Capitol Steps

If you can't join on at the US Capitol, please join us wherever you are able by wearing red in solidarity and observing a moment at 8:45 AM.

Featuring Lance Fisher

Please join the National Caucus of Native American State Legislators (NCNASL) in partnership with the Administration for Native Americans at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and the National Council of Urban Indian Health, Members of Congress for a Moment of Silence for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women.

This event is being held in conjunction with the 2019 NCNASL Annual Meeting (September 23 - 24, 2019) with the theme of Improving Outcomes for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women (MMIW), which is focused on allowing attendees to identify gaps and opportunities for collaborative strategies to address and prevent this epidemic.

Contact: events@NCUIH.org

Media Contact: mraimondi@NCUIH.org