 NATIONAL COUNCIL of
URBAN INDIAN HEALTH

On Wednesday, March 29 at 10:00 a.m. EDT, NCUIH Board Member and Chief Operations Officer of the NATIVE Project, Maureen Rosette (Chippewa Cree Nation), will be testifying before the House Natural Resources Subcommittee on Indian and Insular Affairs oversight hearing titled “Challenges and Opportunities for Improving Healthcare Delivery in Tribal Communities.” During the hearing, NCUIH will advocate for stable and reliable funding for IHS by maintaining advance appropriations to improve healthcare delivery to American Indians and Alaska Natives, while also highlighting the important work UIOs are doing to provide care to their communities.
